Help your guy out and point him in the right direction to get you the perfect gift for Valentine's Day! We discovered a line of jewelry by a company named Limon Verde. We fell fast in love with the unique one of a kind pieces that include bracelets, necklaces, earrings, and rings that are hand sketched and made by artisans from Colombia. We realized that we needed pieces that were more timeless and could be used for our day to day looks, and Limon Verde pieces do the trick. The details in all the pieces are amazing, which is amazing considering that every piece is handmade. Most pieces are threaded using a very thin rope, making a series of designs called knots and mosquitoes. Limon Verde is only found online and at select festivals around Atlanta. The prices for these pieces are super affordable $30-$150. Sooo, give your guy a nudge and tell him to log onto www.limonverde.com to get you a super sweet Valentine's Day gift one you will love now and forever....these are seriously pieces that we would keep around to pass along to a daughter or niece for a special occasion. Here are a few...of our favorites!
